Inaugural Ball to Be Informal

The ceremonies attending the inauguration of Governor-elect James Hartness will be entirely democratic and it is the sincere wish of the incoming governor that Vermonters will feel that they are welcome to the reception and to the inaugural ball which will be given under the auspices of the Woman's club.

According to the arrangements the retiring chief executive, Gov. P. W. Clement, will deliver his farewell address before the joint assembly of the legislature on the afternoon of Thursday, Jan. 5, while Governor Hartness will give his inaugural address to the joint assembly Friday afternoon. Following the inaugural, the governor's reception will be held in the executive chamber. The inaugural ball will be held at city hall and will be entirely informal.

Four Chinamen Captured at Morrisville

to Morrisville to take charge of the aliens.

According to Laporte's story, as told to Officer Kelley, he worked in a livery stable in that town, owned by George Rayea, for whom he was attempting to carry out the smuggling job. The prisoner intimated that the "master mind" of the plot was Henry Macey of Montreal, who it is alleged, paid Rayea a certain sum to execute the job. Laporte said he was enroute to Barre when intercepted by Sheriff Kelley. He left Knowlton at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening and stayed over night at a house in Newport Center, he said. Laporte's destination with the men from the Orient was Barre.

High School vs. Alumni In Basket Ball

face during the remainder of the inter-scholastic season.

Newport has always been a nursery of splendid basket ball material, in y gone days, fans will recall the prowess of such sterling athletes as Morris Wilcox, who played center for our years, when Newport high school had the champion school team of the state. Wilcox later entered the University of Vermont, graduating in 1916. In college he was considered the fastest known pivot man. S. Warner Keith, a famous guard learned the rudiments of the sport game in school hall at Newport. Keith also attended the University of Vermont where he showed up to advantage on the basket ball team, and also on the Varsity football eleven. Such stars as Monk Perrin, another athlete who graduated from the University of Vermont in 1916, Harley Allison, who went to Dean Academy, Walter Mitchell, Tufts athlete, and Walter Kipp, one of the most prominent men in the 1916 class at Dartmouth, all gained their first knowledge of the basket ball game from sides there are a host of other athletes, all of whom credit their start in athletics to their training at the local institution.

The present day college stars, who will be seen in action tonight at school hall include Sam Davis, who is playing regularly at center for the fast Middlebury college five. It is to be regretted that Harry Jenne, another fine Middlebury forward will not be seen on the court tonight. Harry returned to New York soon after Christmas. The Alumni have for forwards the fast Boston University athlete, Donald Akin, and Dave Camp of Dartmouth. Olney Morrill of the Hanover institution will in all probability again don the spandex tonight. Morrill was captain of the 1916 Newport five. For guards are Joe Sokol, from the University of Vermont, Harley Stevens, N. H. S., 1916, and Reginald Savage of Middlebury.

The high school team will slant its full strength tonight, when Slim Hill and Maynard Skinner will be injected into the line-up. The undergraduates are pinning their hope of a victory on the work of these two boys.

Legion Five Gives Dover Good Beating

Then the localites forged to the front when Fisk covered a basket on a hall that had been passed back and forth between Clark, Dumas and himself. Fisk shortly afterwards made another very handsome shot and a long and swift pass from Clark. The score at the completion of the first period was 20 to 11 in St. Johnsbury's favor.

C. Reardon started the fireworks in the middle round when he made a perfect, but lucky, overhead long throw, the ball landing squarely on the side rim. Dumas then came along with a second throw, when he succeeded in dodging the entire Dover team, which was after him.

In the final period, St. Johnsbury took things pretty easy. The closing period, at that, was about the speediest of the three and the larger portion of the fouls were called during these 15 minutes. One particularly outstanding fact in the whole contest was the remarkable exhibition of cool-headedness exhibited by the local boys when they were in real tight places. There was none of that in-hurricane passing, so often seen, but the boys were extremely careful to see where the ball was going to land before they let it out of their hands.

The line-up and summary.
